

Paul's Epistles (4NT520) – 2011 (3 hours)

Syllabus

INSTRUCTOR

Dr Bruce Lowe received his first doctorate in Analytical Chemistry and taught, consulted and researched in a university setting over several years in both Chemistry and Chemical Engineering. He then completed his MDiv at RTS Orlando, becoming an ordained Presbyterian minister and working in university ministry, as a youth pastor, and in church revitalization. He is in the final stages of a doctorate in New Testament Studies, where his thesis has focused on the purpose of Romans through attention to its cultural setting (Romans as Brokering God's Patronage). In this course students will not only gain a classic seminary understanding of Paul, but through interaction with Roman culture, understand him and his letters more broadly. In addition, it will be our purpose to understand how Paul thought as a Christians, so we might see how to think as Christians today.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Little needs to be said about Paul. He and his letters are a vital part of how we are to understand the Christian faith. In this course there is both a theoretical and practical bent. You will be given an understanding of Paul himself, but will also be exposed to the cultures which shaped him. It is only as we understand both of these that we are truly in a position to see his mind and thus the way a Christian should think.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. To provide a general understanding of each of Paul's letters.
2. To highlight the specific value of each of Paul's letters for today – particularly the counter-cultural message Paul presented in his own day and its relevance for us today.
3. To resolve the key issues & 'problem passages' in Paul and his writings.
4. To consider how a Christian should think.

WHEN IS THE COURSE BEING RUN?

Thursday 1:00 PM - 4:00 PM, February 04 - May 06

¹ This will be approx 10-15 pages double spaced. It will be a critical paper in which I wish you to interact with secondary literature (At least 10 good sources: journal articles, monographs and a range of commentaries from at least three different traditions). The topic will be one of your choice negotiated with me. If you are stuck for a topic, I will assign one to you.

² This will be about 4 pages single spaced – approx three summaries per page. The sections you choose will be examinable – so on the final exam you may be asked to write an essay on the metaphor you chose from the chapter on “Slavery and Freedom.”

⁴ About 1-2 pages single spaced. You will want to include a summary of the lecture, then what you liked about it and what you didn't like, followed by a conclusion.
