

2PT 524 PREACHING LAB II

Reformed Theological Seminary-Orlando
Spring Semester, 2009
Thursday afternoons 1-3 p.m.
Instructor: Pete Alwinson, D.Min.
Email: palwinson@willowcreekchurch.org
Phone: 407.761.3403

COURSE DESCRIPTION: There is no published course description.

OBJECTIVES:

In this learning environment students will have the opportunity to improve their preaching and communication gifts by preaching and then receiving constructive feedback from peers. With this experience they will grow in understanding the crucial role of the pastor as a leader-communicator. At the same time, while applying the principles of Christ centered expositional preaching, they will also experiment with and develop their own God given style of communicating His word.

REQUIREMENTS:

- 1} Each student will be required to preach at least one prepared sermon before the class.
- 2} Each student will be required to preach at least one extemporaneous sermon. {The texts for the extemporaneous sermon will be assigned in class and the student given ten minutes to prepare the sermon from that text.}
- 3} Each student will be required to participate in the discussion of each sermon, speaking the truth in love.
- 4} Each student will be required to read Lectures To My Students, by C.H. Spurgeon, and submit a note to the instructor stating that the book has been read, and one big idea that was learned from the author.