COMMUNICATIONS 6PT508/10

COURSE SYLLABUS

Fall 2012
Wednesday, 2:30 pm to 6:30 pm
September 5 to December 12

Visiting Faculty:  Dr. David V. Silvernail, Jr.
Email:  dsilvernail@potomachills.com

• COURSE DESCRIPTION:  This course addresses communication for pastors with an emphasis on preaching philosophy and style, textual exposition, and sermon structure. Written and oral, verbal and non-verbal communications are included. Communication 1 and Communication Lab 1 are to be taken at the same time.

• COURSE OBJECTIVES:  Objectives are in two parts which parallel the hybrid nature of the course.

  ° Communication theory
    ✓ To understand the biblical and theological principles of homiletics.
    ✓ To understand basic sermon components and their functions.
    ✓ To understand the fundamentals of sermon preparation and delivery.
    ✓ To understand the priority and practice of Christ-centered preaching.
    ✓ To increase competence in Christ-centered teaching/preaching.

  ° Communication lab
    ✓ To provide opportunities for students to prepare and deliver sermons/instructions.
    ✓ To provide instructor and peer evaluation on sermon/instructions as delivered.

The focus of this course is not on the history and philosophy of preaching/teaching, although there will some materials on that subject. Rather, we will spend the bulk of our time discussing the mechanics of “Gospel Communication” in relation to the ministry of the Word of God in the local church. The principles discussed in this class will often times seem more testimonial than principial. Students should know that there is more than one correct way to prepare for Scriptural instruction and they will be encouraged to discover their own practices as it is helpful to them.
• REQUIRED READINGS. The reading requirement for this course is on par for a Master’s degree course, as is evident below. Students will be responsible for the reading assignment as the requirements of the course will demonstrate.

1318 Total Pages

• REQUIREMENTS:

  - ATTENDANCE: Each student is required to attend each class. If you know you cannot make it to a class session, notify me in advance.

  - ALL WRITTEN WORK IS TO BE TIMES NEW ROMAN, 12 POINT, DOUBLE-SPACED, ONE INCH MARGINS. NAME, DATE, COURSE, AND ASSIGNMENT SHOULD BE LISTED IN THE HEADER.

  - FOR THE COMMUNICATIONS CLASS….

    ➢ Reading Reports:

      ✓ Reading Report #1 ~ Chapell Report: In place of a Midterm exam, each student will turn in a Reading Report on the required reading textbook by Bryan Chapell. At the end of each chapter, there are a series of “Questions for Review and Discussion.” Students are to answer those questions (at least one paragraph per question) and turn them in on the date that chapter is covered in class.
✓ Reading Report #2 ~ Preaching Books Report: In place of a Final exam, each student will turn in a Reading Report on ALL of the other required reading textbooks. Students will write a brief two page report following the form provided below. Students are to answer those questions and turn them in on the date that book is covered in class.

○ FOR THE COMMUNICATIONS LAB….

  ➢ Illustration File: Each student will gather a preaching illustration from the events since the last class. These illustrations cannot come from the required reading, but rather from the events of everyday life. Illustrations can come from the news, sports, movies, music, or any other medium. But they must be fresh! (i.e.: since the last class). Illustrations should normally be approximately one half page in length.

  ➢ Preaching in class: Each student will have at least TWO opportunities to preach/teach as part of the communication lab. Time will be spent during class to work on the delivery of public addresses and speaking.

  ✓ Sermon #1: Student will deliver a sermon/instruction based on a didactic passage in the Epistle to the Romans.

  ✓ Sermon #2: Student will deliver a sermon/instruction based on a narrative passage in the Gospel of John.

  - Each sermon/instruction is to be a length of 25 to 30 minutes.

  - A two page outline and a full word-for-word manuscript (Times New Roman, 12 point, double-spaced) of each sermon/instruction are to be provided to the instructor PRIOR to their scheduled delivery.

  - Students will deliver these sermons or instructional settings before the class. The sermon/instruction will be evaluated by the instructor and the other students who will make comments and return them to the student.

- DUE DATES OF ASSIGNMENTS:

  ✓ Chapell Reading Report Due October 31 (turned in weekly)

  ✓ Preaching Books Report Due November 28 (turned in weekly)

  ✓ Romans Sermon/Instruction Due date by sign-up in class

  ✓ John Sermon/Instruction Due date by sign-up in class
TOTAL GRADE: You will receive two grades, one for the CLASS, a second for the LAB.

✓ For Communication Class
  • Reading Report #1: 40% of total grade
  • Reading Report #2: 40% of total grade
  • Class Participation: 20% of total grade

✓ For Communication Lab
  • Romans Sermon/Instruction: 40% of total grade
  • John Sermon/Instruction: 40% of total grade
  • Sermon Evaluations: 10% of total grade
  • Illustration File: 10% of total grade

EXPOSITORY SERMONS

Each student will preach two expository sermons. These should be new sermons prepared specifically for this class. Sermons will be evaluated on the following criteria:

1. Expository – this does not mean verse by verse commentary, but that the sermon faithfully expounds the authorial intent of a single scripture passage in its context (2 Timothy 2:15)

2. Application – since Scripture was inspired by God for the purpose of transforming His people throughout all ages (Romans 15:4; 2 Timothy 3:16-17), the sermon must contain application relevant to the contemporary audience which is reflective of the meaning of the Scripture text.

3. Redemptive – since the person and work of Jesus Christ is the hermeneutical key to Scripture and the decisive point of redemptive history (Luke 24; Galatians 4:4-5), exposition and application must point to, draw from, and depend upon His person and work. This may done in numerous ways within a sermon, taking into account the preaching occasion (context, audience, pastoral purpose, etc.) as well as the specific Scripture text. The primary basis to determine your redemptive angle (or “Christ focus”) will be determined by your Scripture text.

4. Clarity – choice of words and phrases, appropriate and compelling language, clarity of sermon points or movements, ability to be followed by listeners, elocution, etc. should be clear. Clarity is greatly enhanced by recapitulation and transitional statements.

5. Delivery – voice, gestures, eye contact, absence of distracting elements.

Each student is to read his Scripture text, followed by a prayer for illumination, before beginning his sermon. The reading of Scripture is a distinct element of worship, not buried inside the sermon after the introduction or later.

While illustrations are not listed above, good illustrations are great aids to the listener. The best illustrations are ones which further expound the meaning of the text. Illustrations should not drive the exposition, be distracting, cause the listener to stumble, overshadow the exposition of the Scripture text or be emotionally manipulative. Good illustrations are often vivid in life detail, giving just enough to capture the imagination of the listeners, but without too much extraneous detail which would attract more attention to the story than the point being made. Above all, they should actually illustrate the point being made and should be fashioned in such a way that they draw the listeners attention to the point. It’s especially important to formulate a clear tie-in statement to the point being illustrated. Writing out such statements help ensure that you as well as your hearers know what the point is.

1 This page is an adaptation from the Communications course taught by Professor Michael Glodo of Reformed Theological Seminary in Orlando.
Visual aids such as film clips or PowerPoint slides are NOT permitted in this course. The proclamation of the Gospel (kerygma) should be distinguished from straight teaching (didache) which should both be utterly distinguished from entertainment or from the prioritizing of form over substance. While there is a continuum between kerygma and didache and while good proclamation contains some teaching and vice-versa, the preacher should always keep in mind that he is God’s herald proclaiming the Good News of the Gospel as it’s found in Jesus Christ. We must try to remember that it is the medium — the foolishness of the preached Word — which keeps us from voiding the power of God (1 Corinthians 1:17-18).

As this is an academic course, each student will footnote their sermon manuscripts with any references they use from any other written text, audio or internet source.

You should dress appropriately when you preach. I don’t prescribe a dress code, but let your appearance reflect your own sense of the task and the context in which you would normally preach. Bear in mind that your sermons may be of some use in your future candidating.

In that regard, the question of intended audience comes up. A preaching lab is somewhat artificial by nature. Nevertheless, each of us are sinners in need of the grace of God which comes especially through the preached Word (WSC 89, 90). Preach not as to a classroom, but to an assembly of believers needing God’s grace.

After each sermon, I'll lead the class in a discussion of the strengths and areas of possible improvement of the sermon. You will also receive written feedback from each classmate and me. Attached is a sample evaluation form that will be used in this class.

ATTENDANCE & PARTICIPATION

Pastors readily reflect that some of the most important lessons learned in seminary were learned from classmates. Preaching labs rely heavily on the range of impressions received by classmates and shared during feedback. Further, seeing more faces in the room is a help to preaching well. You will receive the blessing of feedback from classmates; therefore it is incumbent on you to return that blessing by being present to hear them preach — especially in the weeks before the break and at the end of the semester. Therefore a portion of the final grade will be allotted to attendance and participation in the listening and feedback process.
LEADING IN PRAYER

The ministry of public prayer is rapidly declining in North American worship (this might be so in other contexts, but this is the one with which I’m most familiar). The decline is reflected in …

1. The absence of purpose for particular prayers and their functions within public worship;

2. The decreasing proportion of time spent in prayer in public worship;

3. The abandonment of public prayer by ministers of the Word and the handing over of that role to musicians and others without adequate understanding or training in the relationship of public prayer to the ministry of the Word;

4. Increased interest in fixed liturgies.

Most RTS students have not experienced practiced, sound ministries of public prayer before or during seminary. This absence of examples further perpetuates the decline without conscious efforts to the contrary.

Each class will open and close with prayer and each student will lead in said prayer over the course of the semester.
