- Biblical books of Judges-Esther in an English translation of the student’s choice.
- Biblical books of Deuteronomy and Joshua in an English translation of the student’s choice.
- W. Fullilove. “Taking God Seriously” A Sermon Given at McLean Presbyterian Church, Oct. 24, 2010. (Note: This sermon will be provided to students in .mp3 format.)

REQUIREMENTS:

Attendance: Students are required to attend class lectures and discussions. If you know you cannot make it to a class session, notify the instructor in advance. Missing a significant number of classes (defined at the instructor’s discretion!) will impact a student’s grade in the class.

Reading: Students are required to complete all readings according to the course schedule below.

Quizzes: At the beginning of class each week, students will be quizzed covering the reading of the Biblical books as indicated on the course schedule. (Students should not expect to arrive late and be able to take the quiz.) The lowest quiz grade will be dropped. To provide students with a sense of the level of difficulty of these quizzes, the first quiz (on the book of Deuteronomy) will be ungraded.

Critical Review: Students will write a critical review of the historiographical methodology proposed in A Biblical History of Israel pages 1-104. Paper should be approximately 8 pages, double-spaced. For instructions on writing a critical review, see the appendix to this syllabus.

Sermon/Teaching Preparation: Starting in the fourth week of the class, students will prepare – using the methodology taught in weeks 1-3 – an annotated sermon/teaching outline on a passage assigned for the following week. Students must come to class ready to present their outline, explain how they arrived at its contents, and interact with ideas from other students and the instructor. The first hour of class will be spent discussing the relevant passage, including both exegetical and homiletic considerations.

Students will hand in a hard copy of this outline each week to the instructor at the end of class to be graded. These outlines should be typed. (It is suggested, therefore, that students bring two copies of their outline to class – one for note taking and one to be handed in.) More details on expectations for these outlines will be given during the first three weeks of the class. To be certain students know what is expected in these outlines, the first (on Joshua) will be handed in and critiqued, but not graded.

Note: Students who are interested in doing additional graduate study beyond their RTS degree MUST contact the instructor in advance, as these requirements may be adjusted to better prepare the student for his or her future course of study.

TOTAL GRADE: The final grade for the course will be the total of each of the required assignments listed above.

Quizzes (25%)
Critical Review (25%)
Sermon/Teaching Outlines (50%)

Grades will be assigned according to the RTS grading system. The instructor reserves the right to adjust grades based on each student’s attendance at class and participation in classroom discussion.

Late papers without advance excuse from the instructor will be penalized 1/3 of a letter grade per 24 hours late. Advance excuse will only be given in exceptional cases.

Appendix: Instructions on Writing a Critical Review*

The FIRST part of your critical book review is a statement of the contents. Here you want to indicate both subject and theme. The subject can be loosely defined as what the author is talking about, and the theme loosely defined as what the author says about the subject. What you are interested in doing here is informing your reader of what he or she will find when picking up the book. Put another way, this section includes both a statement of the factual content of the book and a discussion of the author’s bias. Here you are simply giving the facts: the contents of the book and the author’s point of view. Your own opinions are irrelevant. Your end is simply to inform the reader objectively.

The SECOND part of your review is a critical evaluation of the book’s strengths. Here it is your opinions that matter and your reaction to the book. What did you like about the book? Which sections were especially strong? Why? Which themes or topics were addressed well? How did the author make his or her case? Was it convincing? What was especially valuable about the treatment?

The THIRD section of your review is a critical evaluation of the book’s weaknesses. Were there any sections that were particularly unsatisfactory? Did you find contradictions in what the author said in different parts? Does the work conflict with some other work that you have read?

In a word, in the last two sections you give your reactions to the book. The first part of the book review is somewhat mechanical. The second and third parts are for your evaluation. Obviously, it is not enough simply to say, “I like the book; I didn't like the book.” Statements must be concrete and backed up with citations and arguments. Approximately one-third of your paper should be devoted to each section.
