Belgic Confession, Heidelberg Catechism [available on line at http://www.reformed.org/documents/index.html]

Exams:

Final Exam distributed in class on the afternoon of Saturday, November 5, DUE November 19, 2016. Open Bibles, texts, and notes.

Papers:

Complete ONE of the following:

Book Review: A 3000 word summary and analysis (Biblical and pastoral) of book published after 2003 (or pre-approved by the professor) that deals with an ethical matter that the author is likely to confront. This requirement has two parts:

Proposal: A four-paragraph (total) description and rationale for a book appropriate for this assignment. For the book, the student will provide a two-paragraph vindication of the choice: (a) a brief explanation of the ethical issue(s) treated by the book, and (b) a brief justification that the issue will be of relevance to the student’s likely future role in the church. This should include a reason to believe that the book is biblically sound enough for consideration. Due Sept. 17.
Rough Draft (not required, but urged): A 2400 word (target) draft of the text (not just an outline) of the review. Optional Due Date: Oct. 29. Drafts received by this date are guaranteed a detailed response with sufficient time to make revisions. Drafts received after this date will be considered as time permits.

Final Draft: Completed review. DUE ten days after receiving the professor’s comments on the rough draft (if submitted prior to Oct. 29), or Nov. 26, whichever is later.

Pre-approved ideas (but still just illustrative):
- Elshtain, Just War Against Terror (2004) (for those likely to serve military personnel and their families); or, with the same focus, Charles & Demy, War, Peace, and Christianity: Questions and Answers from a Just-War Perspective (2010).
- Hill, Wesley, Washed and Waiting: Reflections on Christian Faithfulness and Homosexuality (especially for those working with young people)
- Houston, Fleur, You Shall Love the Stranger as Yourself: The Bible, Refugees and Asylum (for those working with migrants or world relief)
- Volf, Exclusion and Embrace (for those likely to assist with reconciliation efforts)
- PCA Study Committee Report on Marriage, Divorce, and Remarriage, including the chapter on preventing divorce. Available on line from the PCA website. (88 pages, total, but it is dense writing)

Interview Report and Analysis: A 3000 word summary and analysis of three interviews of sources of mature Christian guidance regarding a specific area of pastoral concern. The interviewees may include ruling or teaching elders, counselors, godly lay people, etc. This assignment as two parts:

Proposal: A four-paragraph (total) description and rationale for a SET of interviews and questions appropriate for this assignment. The student will provide a two-paragraph vindication of the choice of a topic: (a) a brief explanation of the ethical issue(s) to be discussed in the interviews, and (b) a brief justification that the issue will be of relevance to the student’s likely future role in the church. The proposal should include the names of at least two of the interviewees and a sketch of the questions to be used to start the interviews. Due Sept. 17.

Rough Draft (not required, but urged): A 2400 word (target) draft of the text (not just an outline) of the report and analysis. Optional Due Date: Oct. 29. Drafts received by this date are guaranteed a detailed response with sufficient time to make revisions. Drafts received after this date will be considered as time permits.
Final Draft: Completed review. DUE ten days after receiving the professor’s comments on the rough draft (if submitted prior to Oct. 29), or Nov. 26, whichever is later.

Attendance: Attendance is expected. Students who miss a significant portion of class meeting time will have their grade adversely affected.

Grading: Grades will be calculated using the following percentages:
